Document Protection

InceLink offers watermarking on documents in the web-viewer and upon download, which include the name, email, IP address, and the date it was viewed or downloaded. InceLink also offers proprietary Digital Rights Management (DRM), which allows administrators to revoke access to files after they have been downloaded. InceLink DRM can be applied to PDF and Microsoft Office documents.

Save Time
Spend less time managing technology

Stay Secure
Always know who has your sensitive data

Clear Pricing
Pay up front with no hidden costs

Security
InceLink workspaces are private and permission-based -- only administrators control which files are accessible. Documents are stored securely on SSAE 16 Type I and ISO 27001 certified servers. InceLink does not rely on dated software like Java to protect your sensitive information. Watermarking and Digital Rights Management (DRM) features allow complete tracking and control over distributed documents.

Transparent Pricing
Unlike traditional data room providers, InceLink offers transparent and upfront pricing. There are no hidden fees or surprises, and you don't pay based on data storage. You will not be billed with per page, per user, or per gigabyte charges. InceLink is the first deal platform that offers robust functionality with a cost-effective pricing model.

Ease of Use
Sharing files inside of InceLink workspaces is easier than using an FTP service or sending email attachments. InceLink runs in the browser and is accessible from all devices (Mac, PC, iPad, Android, iPhone) and does not require any additional software or plugins. Avoid reformatting your documents -- InceLink's proprietary technology automatically formats your files and makes them viewable in your browser.

Enhanced Productivity
On InceLink, you can create and share a workspace in 10 minutes. InceLink will develop a customized workflow solution for your company. Conducting due diligence and other processes is secure and efficient with activity tracker and Q&A tools. Universal search allows users to quickly access specific information within files and folders.

Support
Unlimited phone and email support that's available 24/7/365 from in-house specialists, not outsourced call centers. You'll also receive a dedicated account representative to answer any of your questions.
